

NEW REMEDIES FOR SPIRITUAL AILMENTS

Jacob Billikopf Tells of Modern Methods Used in Kansas City.

MUNICIPAL LOAN BUREAU

Productive Labor Instead of Prison for Defective Citizens.

Jacob Billikopf of the Board of Public Welfare of Kansas City told the Social Science Club Friday night how that city is applying modern methods to the care of its defective, dependent and delinquent citizens.

The work of Kansas City in this field has attracted nation-wide attention. Instead of sending first offenders to a workhouse, there to serve out a term in idleness, the city puts them to work on a municipal farm. Excellent results have been obtained from this plan.

"Productive labor," Mr. Billikopf said, "we have found to be a splendid remedy for moral and spiritual ailments."

One of the unique accomplishments of the Board of Public Welfare has been the establishment of a municipal loan bureau, where deserving persons, out of city funds, may obtain small loans to tide them over periods of temporary distress. The interest charged is less than one-tenth of that demanded by loan sharks. Notwithstanding this, the bureau at the end of the first year was able to declare a small dividend. This, and succeeding dividends, will be applied toward reducing the interest rate. The municipal bureau, Mr. Billikopf said, had already had the salutary effect of putting out of business two of the most notorious loan sharks of the city.

The board has also put into operation a free legal aid bureau, the only such institution conducted by a municipality. No claim is too small to handle. As much attention is given to a case involving 15 cents as to one of $25—most of the claims handled ranging between these two sums. Four attorneys are regularly employed by the bureau, and the cost to the city has been the nominal sum of 50 cents a case.

Mr. Billikopf referred briefly to the other activities of the board, whose work touches practically all of the social-welfare activities of the city. The members serve without pay.

In introducing the speaker, Dr. C. A. Ellwood spoke highly of the Kansas City idea and of the work of Mr. Billikopf.

THE HOBOES WERE OUT

Ninth Annual Convention Yesterday —to the Back Doors.

The annual pilgrimage to Columbia back doors was made yesterday afternoon by University students, clothed in ragged garments, carrying a staff or a tin can, the emblem of the hobo order. The occasion was the ninth annual Hobo Convention.

One feature of last year's program—the presence of the genuine hobo—was eliminated this year. At any rate if there were any real members of that profession participating in the handouts, they were doing so without invitation.

A play was given by the hoboes in the University Auditorium Friday night. The first scene represented a hobo camp at night. This was followed by a monologue, a solo by H. C. Cox, one of the officers of the organization; music by the hobo mandolin club and the scare crow comedy dance.

HIGH SCHOOL WANT TEACHERS

Demand For Instructors in Agriculture Cannot Be Filled.

"Many requests for teachers in high schools are received here and we can't supply the demand," said F. B. Mumford, dean of the college of Agriculture of the University of the University. "This is because most of our graduates are going into special lines of agricultural work where the outlook is more promising than that in teaching the subject," said Dean Mumford. "While certain lines of the work can be well taught by women, men are generally preferred in the agricultural schools and men for the places are hard to get," said he.

FINALS PLAYED YESTERDAY

Washington U. Beat Kansas in the Finals in Doubles.

Washington University captured the championship of the first annual Missouri Valley tennis tournament. This was due to the playing of Brodix and Adkins. Washington won the championship by taking the doubles in the finals yesterday morning from Ness and Burnett of Kansas.

But it was for Jack Cannon, the Missouri tennis expert, to take the singles championship by winning from Adkins Friday afternoon in the semi-finals, 6-1, 11-9, and having an easy match with Brodix of Washington yesterday afternoon in the finals, 6-2, 6-1, 6-2. Washington, however, besides winning the team championship took the honors of being the Missouri Valley champions in the doubles. Their victory over Kansas was 6-3, 6-4 6-4.

Washington sent the most evenly balanced team of any of the colleges entered. Adkins entered the semi-finals and Brodix the finals in the singles, but were outclassed by Cannon. Adkins put up the best match against the Missouri man because of his brilliant playing. Brodix played a consistent match but could not keep up with Cannon.

Washington comes first in the team score with Missouri second. The other three tied for third place. The team score is: Washington, 9; Missouri, 6; Kansas, 4; Ames, 4; Drake, 4.

The first valley tournament was a success in Columbia. The courts were in the best condition and the weather was as good as could be wanted. The matches were well attended by the students and interest was great. The match for the championship in the singles between Cannon and Brodix drew the largest crowd.

K. U. FORFEITED ONE THEN LOST ANOTHER

Umpire Gave Championship Contest to Missouri Yesterday Afternoon.

SHERWIN WOULDN'T LEAVE

In Exhibition Game Later the Tigers Won by 3 to 1 Score.

"Wipe the cobwebs out of your eyes."

Coach Sherwin said that—or, at least Umpire Catron says he said it—when Catron called Deichman, a K. U. player out on strikes in the first inning of the Missouri-Kansas game yesterday afternoon. It resulted in a forfeited game and the Missouri Valley championship went to Missouri.

After the alleged remark Catron gave Sherwin five minutes in which to leave the field. But Sherwin refused to go, and Catron called the game 9 to 0 in favor of Missouri.

After a discussion and some delay, Directors Brewer and Sherwin decided to have an exhibition game. Missouri won by a score of 3 to 1. Kansas made one run in the first inning, and kept the lead until the fifth when Hornback tied the score. Then came the homerun of Helmreich, the heavy hitting Missouri outfielder, who smashed the ball into the north bleachers and won the game by netting Missouri two runs.

But Kansas was not satisfied when the seven innings were played. Coach Sherwin and the Kansas team say that they did not know that it was to be a seven-inning game until the Tigers started to leave the field. But as Umpire Catron had announced at the beginning that the game would be only seven innings and nearly everyone in the bleachers heard him, the objections of the Kansans were not given much consideration.

Score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Kansas	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	2	2
Missouri	0	0	0	0	1	2	0	0	0	3	6	2

HOME RUN BY HELMREICH

But in the First Game M. U. Won With Only Four Hits.

Missouri defeated Kansas in the first game of the two game baseball series Friday afternoon on Rollins Field by the score of 5 to 2. Angerer pitched the game for Missouri and struck out eighteen of the Kansas batters. He allowed only four hits. Walker who pitched for Kansas allowed six hits. Missouri made two runs in the first inning. Captain Hall hit for two bases and was scored when Helmreich hit in the bleachers for a home run. Captain Hall and Helmreich each got two hits in the game. Ward, the Kansas third baseman, made two of the four hits that Kansas got off of Angerer.

SCHOOL CENSUS SHOWS 2,415

There Has Been a Decrease of About 100 Since Last Year.

There are 2,415 school children in Columbia. R. L. Withers, school enumerator for the school district of Columbia, finished his report yesterday. Of these 1897 are white and 518 negroes. There are 101 more white girls than boys; the girls numbering 999 and boys 898. The negro girls also exceed the boys, 233 to 285. There are 55 pupils enrolled in the Columbia schools who live outside the district.

Mr. Withers began the enumeration April 30 and finished May 13, two days before the required time. He said yesterday that there was a decrease of about 100 in the number of children of last year. This he says, may be due to the fact that one department of the shoe factory was moved away and the families moved with it.

RESTRICT USE OF GOLF LINKS

Hereafter Players Must Join Golf Club or Physical Department.

Only members of the department of physical education and members of the University Golf Club will hereafter be permitted to use the golf links. This change has been made to keep those who do not belong on the links from playing, according to Professor C. A. Brewer.

A laboratory fee of $1 is required of members of the department of physical education. This fee will give the members the privilege of all athletic fields. The University Golf Club is composed of members of the University faculty and anyone who is connected with the University. They are required to pay a membership fee of $5.

The money from these dues will be used for keeping the links in condition. "If it is not enough, the University will give the rest of the amount required," said Mr. Brewer. Work on the links has begun, and by the first of next week they will be in good condition.

As Others See It

The Dunklin Democrat, published at Kennett, Mo., says editorially:

Columbia, Mo., the home of the State University, the place where our boys and girls are staying to learn morals and manners, not altogether told of in books, will soon vote on the local option question. Boone County has voted dry. Columbia, a city of twelve thousand, is the county seat. If there were no public institutions there; if there were not two colleges there, for young women, in addition to the co-educational university, which is supported by the state, it still should vote "dry," as a business proposition. Being the guardians of hundreds of young men, away from their homes and parental supervision, the citizens of Columbia can not afford to throw temptation in the way of these wards. Dunklin County has been without saloons for about nine years, and it would not recall them, under any circumstances. The county has prospered without them. The cities have grown larger, better and happier. Yes, intoxicants are brought in, but there is no way by which one can buy whisky or beer in this county. There has been but one drug store attempt the illegal sale of intoxicants in Dunklin County, since local option was adopted, and it lasted less than two weeks, when its owner departed from here a financial bankrupt, with a sentence hanging over him that would have meant years in prison had he not departed.

CROWN OF FLOWERS FOR THE MAY QUEEN

University Girls Honor Miss Jean Harris—The May Pole Dance.

WAS A PRETTY SPECTACLE

Following Festivities on the Campus, a Play Was Given Last Night.

Miss Jean Harris was crowned May Queen yesterday afternoon on the campus in front of the columns, by Miss Iva Thomas, president of the Alpha Phi Sigma. In the bright sunlight of a typical May afternoon it was a pretty spectacle.

Surrounding the Queen were the attendants, the crown bearer and train bearers. The procession formed the the Chemistry Building, marched west in front of the columns under a line of floral arches held by twenty girls and ascended the Mounds in the center of which stood a throne chair draped in white. Before this the Queen knelt and was crowned. The attendants were: Seniors, Misses Velma Johnson and Eva Brendell; Juniors, Katherine Barnes and Anne Shaw; sophomores, Sarah McLaughlin and Norma Boemer; freshman, Hildegard Walls and Mary Louise Miller. Miss Mary Gentry was crown bearer and Martha Whitten and Ruth Moore were train bearers.

Preceding the entrance of the Queen there was a grand march led by Miss Eleanor Kleeman, grand marshal of the day. In this procession were the Maypole dancers and the University women representing the different classes. The seniors wore caps and gowns, and the others sashes in their class colors. The Maypole dancers were dressed in the colors of the Maypole streamers, blue, pink, yellow and green. The dresses were cut to resemble flower petals. At the head of the dancers were four little girls, Esther Hill, Exie Gray, Katherine Hill and Katherine Conley. Each class was preceded by their class marshal. They were: Seniors, Miss Ruth Mason; Juniors, Miss Josephine Sutton, sophomores, Miss Louise Letts, freshman, Miss Rosalie Tumlalty, and graduate Miss Eleanor Kleeman. Those in the march wove in and out among the arches and formed a semicircle in front of the columns during the crowning of the Queen.

After the May Queen was crowned the Maypole dancers gave a woodland dance around the pole which was on the south part of the quadrangle. Following this they wound the pole with the streamers after which all marched from the field led by the Queen's procession.

Music for the marches and dances was furnished by the University Cadet Band. The committee in charge of the afternoon exercises consisted of Miss Emma Bee Mundy, Miss Hor-tense McVey and Miss Louise Field. Miss Margaret Austill and Miss Rebecca Condaw, instructors in athletics, trained the dancers.

Last night the University girls presented "Blue Bird" on the campus.

IT'S MOUNTED POLICE NOW

Beasley Chases Offender in Laundry Wagon and on Horseback.

Columbia has now mounted police force but Assistant Chief Beasley knows the use of horses. Yesterday afternoon Willard Miller, a farmer living west of town became too noisy on Broadway. Beasley started after him but as Miller was on his horse Beasley did not gain much. So the assistant chief, unknown to Miller, climbed into a passing laundry wagon and overtook him. But when he got out and told Miller to stop the horseman galloped off.

Then it was that Beasley became a "mounted policeman." He borrowed another farmer's "nag" and chased Miller out into Westwood. Then Miller gave himself up and was brought back to jail.
